DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

Specification

The amendment to the specification filed 11/5/2007 is acknowledged and accepted.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 29-33 and 35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lindmayer et al. (4,623,332). Lindmayer discloses an injection device (See Figures 6-8) comprising at least a first housing (45), a second housing (2), a third housing (5), and a fourth housing (3), wherein the third housing has a syringe adaptor (threaded portion of 5, the limitation of "syringe adaptor" does not carry much patentable weight by itself) having an outer vent sleeve (58, the examiner is interpreting a "vent sleeve" to basically mean just a sleeve that has some venting capability which any sleeve does), a movable piston (51) having an end and at least one relief hole (the bifurcation), a fixed sleeve (not numbered, element that is threaded to the threads of element 5) adjacent the movable piston and having a groove (threads) with a hole (the element is a cylinder and therefore has a hole through it), a drive piston (61) having a groove and a sealing device (54) within the groove, wherein the housings are demountably attached, wherein the first housing has a button (49) and the fourth housing has a plunger (47), a syringe, and a spring (50).

Claims 1 and 27-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Jacobsen et al. (6,165,155). See Figures 8A-8D and the respective portions of the specification. Jacobsen discloses an injection device comprising a housing (500) having a proximal end and a distal end, the housing having a distal opening (538), a propellant (526, 528) disposed inside the housing and spaced from the distal end, a piston (510) having a first cavity disposed inside the housing between the distal end and the propellant, and a hollow sleeve (512) configured to mate with the piston, the sleeve having a second cavity, wherein a gas generated by the propellant travels between the interior of the housing to the exterior of the injection device through the first cavity and the second cavity but without passing through the distal opening of the housing, wherein the hollow sleeve has a surface with at least one hole (544), and wherein the piston has at least one hole (546) and a surface adjacent the surface of the sleeve.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140

Art Unit: 3763

F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thornton, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1 and 27-35 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-23 of U.S. Patent No. 6,616,627. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the minor structural differences in the sets of claims do not pass the threshold of patentability.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 34 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
